Our Dog Terry

By GEORGE A. TASCH

He was just a little pup when first we saw him. Three months old, all white except for a patch of black over his right eye and ear, which served only to accentuate the whiteness of his body.

But even at that tender age he showed us he was no ordinary pup. He was in a display cage along with five or six other fox terriers. While the other pups lay curled around each other, dozing lazily, Terry alone stood up on his tiny hind legs and greeted us with loud yips, his tail wagging furiously. He was later to perform often walking on his hind legs.

At that instant he opened our hearts, crept into them, there to remain forever. It was as though he knew he was meant for us, and that we had finally come for him. We took him home and named him Terry.

Reams and volumes have been written about dogs, their loyalty and devotion to their master, be he pauper or prince. Countless stories of bravery and fearlessness when danger threatened, even to giving their lives; stories of unselfishness, of intelligence; ability to do tricks that are almost human; their love and sense of protection of children. And many other qualities.

Terry had all of these and more. As are most fox terriers he was sensitive and high-strung. Every minute we were gone he was in mental agony. He refused all food until we returned and were properly greeted. Then only would he turn to his meal. But not yet to eat. First he must fold his paws in prayer in imitation of his master. If we came home, mentally beaten and bruised from the rebuffs and attacks of mankind, he sensed it immediately, and nuzzling his head in our hands, he would lick them as if to say: "Never mind, you still have me."

At the age of five months he learned to play the piano and sing. Brought about by his desire to be always at our side, he used to sit on the piano stool while we were playing. He soon learned the knack of pounding the keys with his paws and then singing in dog fashion.

His feats attracted attention of the public all over the nation. Paramount Studios made plans to use him in a Bob Hope picture. Unfortunately the cameramen taking preliminary flash pictures, dropped one of the flash bulbs. The noise of the explosion unnerved the sensitive dog and he was camera shy from then on. Even the sight of a camera case caused him to hide.

But we didn't mind. It was enough for us that he was constantly at our side to give us comfort and joy. He knew all the tricks in the dog category, but for the most part he despised these as being too simple.

Nor was it all play. He never forgot his duty as protector. On at least two occasions he saved his mistress from attacks by sex maniacs, attacking them viciously and routing them. Countless times we were awakened at night by his barking and growling and when we investigated we found him standing at the door, ears cocked, and listening intently. Any would-be prowler would have quickly taken to his heels at the ominous warning he gave them.

He loved children and was loved by them. It was this love which helped to hasten his end. He was now fifteen years old, equivalent to a man of 100. During the past year he had grown more feeble. It must have grieved him that he could no longer romp and play with his "pals."

Recently our nephew, Jerry O'Connell, 8 years old, came from Chicago to visit us. Jerry and Terry became immediate pals.

Like all boys of his age, Jerry was full of youthful exuberance, running and jumping and playing with his ball. Terry tried pitifully to keep up with him. Many times his feeble legs caved in and he fell, only to raise himself painfully and resume his play. His heart could no longer take it.

He became really ill Friday night when he saw Jerry's packed bags and realized his pal was leaving him.

Twenty-four hours later he was dead. But even in his last act of dying, Terry showed his unselfishness. He wanted us there when he passed away.

On Saturday we were out celebrating one of the Fiesta affairs, returning late at night. He met us with a beseeching gaze as if to say: "Look, I have only a few minutes left. Stay with me."

We stroked his head gently, and talked comfortingly with

O.B. Resident Wins Fiesta Costume Contest

Marc Strauss of Ocean Beach won the men's division of the San Diego metropolitan area's Fiesta Wear contest Monday, and two Ocean Beach business women won special commendations for outstanding costumes.

Strauss, wearing a white gabardine suit embroidered with gold, with white hat and beard to match, caught the eyes of the judges who toured 13 communities in the metropolitan area.

Mrs. Robert S. Harness of La Mesa was judged the best dressed woman and the North Park Business Club placed first in community participation.

The Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce will receive a plaque from the Fiesta del Pacifico for presentation to Strauss, it was reported.

Commendations went to the Chamber for outstanding Fiesta costumes worn by Veda Moss, of the Veda Moss Style Shop, and Tomsy Pinkes of the Peninsula News.

Mrs. Moss wore a blue dress, tortoise shell comb and a flower in her hair. Mrs. Pinkes was garbed in a white dress trimmed with silver, white lace mantilla, and had a white rose in her hair.

The Fiesta del Pacifico presented a plaque to Marc's (men's wear) on Newport Ave. for its outstanding window display. The colorful display, arranged by Rusty Harding, features Fiesta wear and clever decorative effects.

'News' Circulation Exceeds 14,750

Circulation of the Peninsula News now totals more than 14,750 copies per week, it was announced by Clyde Wood, general manager.

"We have expanded our coverage of the Midway area," he said, "and are constantly adding new deliveries throughout the growing Peninsula area."

George Meenes, veteran circulation man with 22 years' experience, was employed by the Peninsula News in September, 1955. Since then the newspaper's circulation has shown a steady increase from 11,000 to the current total of almost 15,000.

SLOGAN CONTEST

Mrs. Phyllis Eger, of 4551 Narragansett Ave., was last week's winner in the Peninsula News Booster Slogan Contest. Turn to page 9 for her winning slogan and details of the weekly contest.

him. A few minutes later he was gone.

So ended fifteen years of love and devotion. If there is a dog heaven we know Terry has a front row. He had performed his duty fully, leaving nothing undone. Can you understand how it feels to come home now and not find that familiar pal at the door greeting you? There is a void in our home and an ache in our hearts for that lovable little pup who stood up to greet us in that pet shop fifteen years ago.

O.B. Congregation Joins In Petition To Soviet Premier

Jehovah's witnesses, in district convention at Long Beach Aug. 4, petitioned Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin to free its members from Russian slave labor camps.

The petition, adopted by 10,709 persons at the convention (including Herman Deines, president of the Ocean Beach Congregation and about 85 others from the congregation), is in behalf of "thousands of Jehovah's witnesses confined in the many slave labor camps behind the Iron Curtain," it was reported.

The Long Beach district assembly is one of more than 100 such assemblies throughout the world sending the petition to Bulganin and the Russian Government.

Cal Western University Players To Present 'Everyman' Aug. 25-26

California Western University Players will again present, due to popular demand, the world-famous morality play, "Everyman" in the Greek Theatre on the campus on August 25 and 26 at 3 p.m., under the direction of Carl Glick.

This play, when presented last summer, aroused a great deal of favorable comment. Its universal theme of life, death and resurrection has impressed audiences throughout the world since its first production in England in 1520. It is considered one of the great classics of literature and the most beautiful and moving of all morality plays.

The Greek Theatre on the campus of California Western University is ideally suited as a background; with the temple on the hill representing Heaven, the small temple on the other side, hell; and the temple in the center, the world. Against this background the play unfolds its mysteries in awe-inspiring and breathless moments.

Practically the same cast which appeared last summer will again interpret the leading roles. Kent Wilson will appear in the title role and others will be Joseph E. Hitt Jr. as Fellowship, Jim Peterson as the Messenger, Sam Howard as Cousin, Sylvia Kircher as Confession, Francis Guidry as Goods, and Larry McCoy as the Angel.

Others in the cast, some of whom have played before with the California Western University Players will be Jean Naylor, Lilian Ostrander, Marian R. Bear, Carol Kriner, Raymond Sparks, Laura McGraw, Paul Koral and Gene Kenny.

High Qualifying Weight Seen In 3rd Derby Period

With albacore, bluefin tuna, and yellowtail catches all contributing to the tenseness of the situation, the third and final qualifying period of the $25,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby is rolling merrily along and assuredly toward a much higher weight level than was attained in either of the earlier periods.

With six weeks remaining, low weight in the final period has been jacked up almost 20 pounds, but veteran anglers believe it will go beyond the 24 pound mark before the curtain drops.

High weight fish of the week was a 27 pound 10 ounce albacore caught by John Corriero, San Diego, but it was closely pressed by a 26 pound 12 ounce yellow taken by Dr. E. R. Sizer, Laguna Beach, and a 26-10 albacore caught by Mary Hoshizaki, El Centro.

Daily albacore catches ranged around the 400 mark most of the week.

Top Qualifier from the Point Loma-Ocean Beach sector this week was Edward Checkert, 2650 Narcissus, who bagged a 22 pound 2 ounce albacore.

Gregor Piatigorsky was born April 17, 1903, in the town of Dnepropetrovsk, Russia. He began playing cello at the age of four and when he was eight years old was already playing in the theatre orchestra of his home town. To Straighten Records
SINCE warped phonograph records are useless in that condition, Popular Mechanics offers a suggestion for straightening them. Simply immerse the record in hot water, 140 to 160 degrees, in a cake pan or similar shallow, flat-bottom container.

Over the record invert a dinner plate of a diameter permitting its edge to contact only the edge of the record. In other words, don't let the plate touch the grooves of the record.
Place a one-pound weight on the plate, leaving the record under pressure until the water has cooled to room temperature.

Viveca Lindfors At L. J. Playhouse

This week La Jolla Playhouse audiences are enjoying the two-fold pleasure of seeing the glamorous and able Swedish-born actress Viveca Lindfors perform in two tenses dramatic one-act plays by August Strindberg.

The first of these, "Miss Julie," is a sharp, taut romance, which keeps one on the edge of his seat until the curtain falls on the final scene. The second, "The Stronger," is almost a monologue, teasing and with a delightful surprise ending.

Neither of the two plays have been produced in this country until last winter when Miss Lindfors appeared in them at the Phoenix Theatre in New York, winning some of the outstanding plaudits of the season.
Co-starred with Miss Lindfors is Stephen Bekassy, who appeared here last summer with Claire Trevor in "Time of the Cuckoo."

By BOB WILSON
Member of Congress

The Stassen incident perhaps was the most significant because it reflected the almost unanimous support of House Republicans for Vice President Richard Nixon.

If anything, Nixon emerged stronger than ever as President Eisenhower's running mate for the second time. At this point, it seems that Harold Stassen, the President's disarmament advisor, was the only one damaged by his unexplained move to substitute Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts for Nixon on the Republican ticket.

Incidentally, as Congress closed shop, the eyes of Republicans were turned toward the National Convention in San Francisco this year.

I intend to take an active part in the convention, even though I am not a delegate. As a member of Congress, I have floor privileges which will allow me to participate in many ways.

While I personally have no convention tickets to distribute, the Young Republicans of California have secured a bloc of tickets in the Cow Palace and intend to rotate large groups so a maximum number of G.O.P. members may see at least a part of the convention proceedings.

The last ten days of the 84th Congress saw both the House and Senate working overtime each day to act on the rush of bills which had piled up in mid-session.

It was gratifying, indeed, to witness in the waning hours of the Session final Congressional approval of a bill which will give the Southern California tuna industry an assortment of new government-forced weapons with which to fight back from the economic doldrums.

I introduced the first fisheries industry aid bill early in the 84th Congress. By the time Senate and House Committees had held hearings and listened to all sides of questions, little of my original legislation was intact. Yet it started the legislative ball rolling, so to speak.

Rep. Herbert C. Bonner (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, and Dr. Wilbert M. Chapman, research director of the American Tunaboat Association, have been kind enough to say publicly that my original bill touched off the ultimate passage of a bill which should help the tuna industry over some of its financial hurdles.

Looking back on the last ten days of the Session, I can't help but think Congress would adjourn about mid-June or July 1 at the latest if they maintained early in the year even half the pace it sets in the stretch-drive of late July.

One casualty of the 84th Congress was the omnibus judgeship bill, the Senate version of which would have given San Diego and Imperial Counties an independent Federal Judicial district. However, we laid the groundwork for such legislation this year and it will perhaps be less difficult in the 85th Congress to see it enacted into law.

It's Your BUSINESS!

BY BEECHER DIXON

GENERAL MANAGER, SAN DIEGO
BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

Everybody likes a bargain. Some people even boast of being able to buy at "wholesale" or at a "tremendous" discount. The customer kids only himself.

Nearly every day your Bureau learns about someone buying an appliance through a so-called "discount" operation at a wholesale price, only to discover later that he could have obtained it in normal fashion from a reputable dealer for a whole lot less. The dishonest fellow had upped the price of his product to fool the bargain-hunter.

It happens right along, and one of the jobs of the San Diego Better Business Bureau is to help protect you from fraud and deception. A good yardstick for telling whether or not you are going to be gypped is this: If it sounds too good to be true chances are it probably is!

Your Bureau has a Safeguard pamphlet, titled, "Wholesale? Discount?" which is free for the asking and makes good reading. Address your request to the Bureau, Spreckels Building, San Diego.

Medical quacks thrive everywhere, and San Diego County is not without its share of them. Some guarantee to restore hair on bald pates, despite the fact that medical claim there is no known cure for baldness.

Some offer cancer cures without the use of surgery. This is particularly dangerous, since this not only delays urgent and proper medical care, but such treatment might even cost the person's life.

One outfit offers a citroid compound which it claims will control colds. Experienced medical men are still trying to lick the common cold.

Before filing a complaint, discuss the matter fully with an officer of the company in question. If you then fail to reach an understanding, submit your complaint to the Bureau in writing.

HEALTH FOR ALL

These days a trip abroad isn't the rarity it once was. In time, we are told, we may even hop into a jet on Friday, spend the weekend on another continent, and be back at work on Monday. Although Americans are not yet seeing the world on a weekend, many thousands of us are working and serving abroad in large numbers. We all know someone, a member of the family or a friend, who is living or has lived overseas. So the world has become a smaller and more familiar place for us than it was for our parents.

The "shrinking" of our globe has brought to Americans in some areas of the world the problem of greater exposure to contagious diseases, which makes the difficult problem of controlling such diseases within our own borders even more difficult.

Take tuberculosis for example. The organized fight against this contagious disease in the United States is already more than a half century old, yet, despite all that has been accomplished, we have not eradicated tuberculosis as a major public health problem.

In countries with living standards lower than ours tuberculosis is more prevalent than in the United States. Some precautions can be taken by Americans going to those countries, but there is no such thing as tight control over a disease that is present in millions and millions of the world's population and that spreads from person to person.

So today, controlling tuberculosis within the United States depends more than ever on how well the disease is controlled elsewhere in the world. Thus our efforts to help other nations in their fight against TB may result in better protection from the disease within our borders.

In an effort to give people everywhere better protection from TB, the National Tuberculosis Association, with which your local association, with which your local tuberculosis associations throughout the world through the International Union Against Tuberculosis.

Here's Why Students Now Attend Summer School Classes In S. D.

Gone are the days—in San Diego, at least—when students attended the city schools' summer session only to make up a failing grade or to improve low grades.

Today the greatest motivation comes from the fact that by attending summer classes, students may complete one or two required courses, thereby enabling them to schedule additional elective subjects during the regular school year.

This was one of the findings of a survey conducted recently among the 3372 junior and senior high school students attending the city school's seven-week summer session which ended Friday, August 3.

Quincy Wemple, summer session coordinator who conducted the survey, said that 1188 students, or more than a third of those enrolled, said they attended summer classes in order "to get a better program of classes next year."

After meeting specified requirements during the summer, many students then elect to take additional courses in their major fields of study during the regular school year, Wemple said. Others add electives in other subject fields, he said.

The survey showed, however, that the remedial aspects of summer session still are important. Wemple said that 780 students reported they enrolled in order to make up a failure, and another session to repeat a course in order to raise a low grade.

Other reasons for summer session attendance: "to improve my knowledge or skill in the subject," mentioned by 958; "for pleasure or enjoyment," mentioned by 298; and "other reasons," mentioned by 50. The enrollment included 1861 students attending summer session for the first time.

Results of the student survey will be used in an evaluation of the summer session, extended this year from six to seven weeks.

Both junior and senior high subjects were offered at three senior high school centers. San Diego High had an enrollment of 1373; Hoover High, 1141; and Mission Bay High, 856.

Lee L. Bloomenshine served as director of the summer session, and principals were Norman Houser at San Diego High, Charles L. Wilson at Hoover, and Dr. Ralph Patrick at Mission Bay.

Red Cross Needs More Volunteers

Red Cross Gray Lady service at the Naval Hospital, Balboa Park, needs 69 additional volunteers to meet the service demands this fall. Mrs. Lawrence Crandall, chapter recruitment chairman, has announced. These will augment the present staff which, during the past year, has totaled 110 volunteers.

Gray lady provide comfort articles, craft and recreational programs for bed patients, write letters, distribute magazines and take care of personal shopping.

hospital is also the center for games, parties, stamp collecting and other recreational activities, with Gray Ladies assisting.

Interviews will be held at Red Cross headquarters, 3650 Fifth Avenue, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. on weekdays through Aug. 17. Orientation and hospital training are scheduled to begin Aug. 20.

The California Highway Patrol made 305,242 arrests during the first five months of 1956 as compared with 323,701 arrests during the first five months of 1955, reports the National Automobile Club. This represents a decrease of 18,459 or 5.7 per cent.

"Come 'n' Get It!"

(Courtesy Webster Electric Company)

This portable two-way intercommunication set called Com-ette serves as a handy cook's helper to the barbecue chef who takes pride in his skill at the outdoors grill and wants to serve his guests piping hot food. There are no connecting wires to be strung the length of the yard. Just plug one unit of the set into the electrical outlet in the kitchen or on the sunporch and the other near the barbecue pit. The cook no longer has to work alone. With a flick of the switch he can call for spices, refreshments, listen to music or the ball game from the radio indoors, chat with guests and call them to "come 'n' get it" when the cooking's done.

'Mass In B Minor' Shaw Schedules

The concluding concert of the San Diego Symphony's "Inside Music Series" will be Robert Shaw's second annual religious offering, Johann Sebastian Bach's "Mass in B Minor" to be given at 7:30 p. m. Friday, August 17, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 2729 Fifth Avenue.

The well-known Adele Addison will sing the soprano role. Miss Addison will come here directly from the Festival at Aspen, Colorado.

Richard Robinson, young Los Angeles tenor who has worked with Robert Shaw a great deal in the past, also will be featured.

This public-service offering of the "Mass in B Minor" is sponsored jointly by the San Diego Symphony, the parish of St. Paul's and Local 325, of the American Federation of Musicians. The "Mass in B Minor" will present Mack Harrell, bass. Mr. Harrell is well-known to San Diego audiences for his instruction in the Workshop in Choral Art, at San Diego State College, and his appearance last year in both the "St. Matthew Passion" and Berlioz' "Requiem."

Katherine Hilgenberg, alto, will appear in the presentation. She also appeared in this summer's opening concert, the "Beethoven Ninth Symphony."

United Success Drive Issues Call For Volunteers In Ocean Beach Area

An urgent call for residents of Ocean Beach to serve as United Success Drive volunteers was issued today by Jack Thompson, chairman of the fall drive.

He urged all persons with a few spare hours to pitch in and help raise the $2,306,000 United Success goal that is needed to support more than 70 health, welfare and recreation services throughout the county.

Volunteers are needed for all phases of the campaign, he reported. "We especially need top-notch women in the Geographic division who will campaign all places of residence and all firms or businesses with less than five employees within the city," Thompson said.

A call was also issued for telephone callers, typists, filing clerks and personnel to address and stuff envelopes at the central United Success Headquarters, 3535 Enterprise St.

Many women's groups have already pledged volunteers, but more are needed, Thompson reported.

Volunteers for all phases of the campaign should call AC-3-7191. The United Success Drive this year will include the Community Chests of Carlsbad, Chula Vista, Coronado, Fallbrook, Oceanside and San Diego Area.

"It is only through our support of the United Success Drive," Thompson said, "that we insure the continuation of man-made miracles that occur each day through the operation of Red Feather agencies."

Learn to recognize and avoid poison plants and snakes, advises the National Automobile Club. Know the first aid for the more common poisons in case you are exposed or bitten during your summer hikes.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Just recently the AAA did a survey on average yearly driving costs for a family of four. Results of this study bear out one of my pet theories—that the farther you travel by car, the cheaper it becomes. In other words, it's "cheaper by the mile!"

Certain costs of car ownership do not change with mileage. Depreciation, license fees and insurance remain fixed no matter how much you drive. The main added expense for extra miles is for gasoline and oil. However, competition among U. S. oil companies keeps these costs down. Results of the survey mentioned above were as follows:

For 5,000 Miles	For 15,000 Miles
$481.33 depreciation	$481.33
194.29 insurance	194.29
16.88 license fees	16.88
116.00 gasoline and oil	$48.00
$7.00 maintenance	111.00
25.50 tires	76.50
$781.00 TOTAL FAMILY COST	$1,136.00

Cost per mile for 5,000 miles—15.6¢
Cost per mile for 15,000 miles—7.6¢

There you have proof that every mile you drive costs less than the one before. So, whether it's for convenience, pleasure, or for economy, it's smart to drive MORE because it gets cheaper by the mile. And since five can travel as cheaply as one, it's also cheaper by the carload!

Fast 3-Year-Olds To Run Saturday In La Jolla Handicap At Del Mar

DEL MAR—A full complement of the Far West's leading 3-year-olds will collide at this seaside course here Saturday in the sixteenth running of the $15,000 added La Jolla Handicap.

Nominated for the flat mile feature, which is the final build-up before the Sept. 1 renewal of the $25,000 Del Mar Derby, are 21 of the best youngsters in the sophomore division.

Heading the array are such outstanding stakes-winners as Gazelle Stable's Blen Host, winner of the Del Mar Futurity a year ago and a strong contender for 3-year-old honors this season; Elobe Farm's super consistent Eddie Schmidt, a fast and game son of Count Speed; Louis B. Mayer's imported ace, Falmer; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner's Fathers Risk, a star at the Santa Anita winter meeting; and Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis' Lucky G. L.

Anchor Watch, winner of the six furlong Oceanside Handicap in a sizzling display of wire to wire running, is also named for the La Jolla and will carry the silks of Fred Johnston's Agoura Stock Farm.

Other top contenders are Joe W. Brown's Pit Boss, a vastly-improved youngster which won with ease here recently; Anderson and Olsen's All She Wrote, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turner's Buggles, and Miss Nancy Kerr's Family Album.

Completing the list of nominees are Bodkin, Dingdongdaddy, Flying Bolt, How Now, Lynncrest, My Ring, Paul's Diamond, Prose-lyte, Scarlet Abbey, Spring Boy, and Your Regards.

The La Jolla Mile has always proved one of the most competitive stakes on the Del Mar schedule. Won last year by George Pope's Hillary, a son of Khaled, it has been captured in recent years by such top horses as Blue Reading, Dinner Gong, Three-some and Henpecker.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Seick and their daughter, Diana, 13, have moved from Pacific Beach to their home in the 3400 block of Trumbull St. Mrs. Seick is a representative of a cosmetic company. Mr. Seick is a tool engineer for a local aircraft company.

GOP Women Meet Next Wednesday

The Ocean Beach Woman's Republican Club will meet next Wednesday, Aug. 15 at 1 p.m. in the O.B. Woman's Clubhouse, Muir and Bacon Sts.

Mrs. Myrtis Myers, County Federation president, will speak on "The Women's Role in the Coming Election." The public is welcome; refreshments will follow.

NEWCOMERS CLUB

Peninsula Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club will meet today (Thursday) at a noon luncheon in El Nopal, Old Town, in celebration of the Fiesta del Pacifico. Members will visit El Mercado afterward.

Now flowers speed cross-country by telephone. Many floral shops now offer a new service—Flowers by Telephone. When flowers are to be sent out of town, the florist calls the distant city and places the order before the customer leaves the shop. If the flowers asked for are out of stock, the customer is free to change his order, knowing his flowers will arrive on time. Florists who offer this new service display an emblem reading: "We speed flowers by telephone." It's another way telephone people—working with florists—make telephone service do a better job for you. The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

"CHECK THE ADVANTAGES"

This convenient Directory is composed of friendly local firms who realize that in order to maintain the patronage of resident shoppers, high quality, low cost and better service, must always be at your disposal. Hence, service, convenience, home delivery, local telephone, are just some of the many reasons why IT PAYS TO SHOP LOCALLY.

"ENJOY THE FRUITS OF LOCAL HARVEST"

You can have fun and become better acquainted with local advertisers and their ads by participating in our "BOOSTER SLOGAN" Contest. In each column can be found a "Hidden" Word—combine them and you have our slogan for this week—write a brief paraphrase along the same theme as the slogan—it does not necessarily have to rhyme but must always lend to the advantages of local shopping.
